STUDENT ENGAGEMENT:

Study Abroad and Study Away: The College of Humanities and Social Sciences expanded its study abroad program by pioneering a new model for Study Abroad and Away that emphasizes community engagement and deep understanding of the host country or locality. This year, students visited Guatemala, Brazil, London, Florence, South Africa, and Costa Rica as well as the American Southwest and the Appalachian Trail.

Cal State DC celebrated its 10th anniversary and the participation of over 400 students.

EVENTS:

SEA Legacies: In celebration of the formation of Southeast Asian diasporic communities in the U.S. over the past 40 years, Cal State Fullerton's College of Humanities & Social Sciences sponsored "SEA Legacies" symposium featuring discussion panels, student presentations, dance performances and other activities.

25th Anniversary of the Fall of the Berlin Wall Symposium: A symposium sponsored by the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the fall of the Berlin Wall, its significance and impact on European politics and U.S. foreign policy.

Keystone Corner Exhibit: Dr. Ben Cawthra (History), with contributions by graduate and undergraduate public history students from Spring 2014 Seminar in Public History and Spring 2015 Practicum in Public History.
